DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 24, drawn to a first composition, classified in class 435, subclass various.
- II. Claim 25, drawn to a use according the claim 21 which was cancelled, classified in class 424, subclass various.
- III. Claims 28, ³³29, 32-37, 40-43, 53, drawn to a second composition, classified in class 514, subclass various.
- IV. Claims 38, 39, 42, drawn to a third composition, classified in class 530, subclass various.
- V. Claims 44-46, drawn to a first method of using the second composition, classified in class 426, subclass various.
- VI. Claim 47, drawn to a second method of using the second composition, classified in class 436, subclass various.
- VII. Claims 48-52, drawn to a third method of using the second composition, classified in class 536, subclass various.
- VIII. Claims 26, 27, 30 and 31, drawn to a composition as defined by cancelled claim 1, classified in class 435, subclass 183.

Art Unit: 1651

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions III and V-VII are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used in materially distinct methods of use such as treat cancer and as shown by the different uses claimed.

The different products are restricted from one another since the different products are materially distinct from one another, i.e. an enzyme which is capable of converting a compound into a substrate for the galactose oxidase versus a compound naturally present in flour are different from one another.

The different methods of using the compositions are restrictable from one another since they are not capable of being used together and require different modes of operation.

Applicant has amended the claims to encompass new inventions not originally claimed which raise new issues in the restriction requirement.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: the many different components of the products.

Applicant is required to enumerate all of the specific components in the composition which is elected for examination.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 24, 33, and 38 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1651

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
